Advanced Practice Grand Rounds

Anticoagulation and Updates in Pharmacologic Management

Eugene Burbige Pharm.D., B.C.P.S. is an internal medicine clinical pharmacist at UC Davis Medical Center. He completed his Doctor of Pharmacy at University of Colorado Skaggs School of Pharmacy, followed by the completion of a Pharmacy Residency at UCSF. He works primarily with medical and surgical inpatient services.

Eugene's grand rounds lecture will provide an overview on practices related to anticoagulation and updates in pharmacologic management. Lecture content to include indications for anticoagulation, pharmacokinetics of antithrombotic medications, an overview of the transition between different antithrombotic medications, and periprocedural considerations.
